fourchapter GALLERY

ABOUT THE GALLERY

The Four Chapter Gallery is a collaboration between Christ Community and The Culture House that seeks to explore the relationship between art and ideas, reality and fantasy, beauty and deception, and individuality and community. We are pleased to display work from local, national, and emerging artists, who work in a variety of mediums. We're convinced that the whole city flourishes when good art is produced and made accessible. For more information, visit FourChapter.gallery

This Month's Exhibition:

The title of the show, Known, Knowing and Unknown, is a play on the Hebrew word yadah, which means "to know." Yadah appears frequently throughout the biblical text, and in many instances alludes to sexual and emotional intimacy. Engaging this concept of "knowing" as a heightened metaphor for intimacy within marriage, this body of work explores how an intimate relationship—a relationship built on mutual trust, respect, love and compassion—can become compromised or negated by the reality of the people who make it, because people are often in a state of flux, both in relation to themselves and to each other.

About the Artists:

Caroline Colby-Gonzalez is a figurative painter hailing from Miami, Florida. She graduated from Florida International University in 2014, earning a BA in art history and a BFA with a focus on painting. After graduating, she was accepted to a two-year, faith-based residency program with Transform Arts in Kansas City, Missouri.

During her residency, she curated her first show, Banal Magic: Latin American Artists Transmute the Ordinary, which featured emerging artists of Latin American descent and took place at the Four Chapter Gallery.

Her work has been collected privately and featured in the Freedom 58 collection to bring awareness of human trafficking. She has exhibited her work in the Museum of Florida Art and Culture, the Leedy Voulkos Art Center, the Four Chapter Gallery, and the Kansas City Artist Coalition.
